

THE ALCHEMY OF GRIEF and GRATITUDE

Based on the work of Elisabeth Kubler-Ross and Carl Gustav Jung

Join us for a confidential, intimate, experiential, weekend, exploring our unique barriers to deeper relationships. In addition to some teaching, we'll be utilizing a Jungian process of "Active Imagination" and an "Externalization" process developed by Elisabeth Kubler-Ross to help facilitate your ongoing growth from grief, fears, and regrets toward gratitude, contentment, and even delight. Various exercises will help transform some of the hidden treasures in our unconscious into a deeper understanding of our reactivity and motivations.

Anne Taylor Lincoln

A Licensed Professional Counselor in private practice for over 35 years in AZ, a facilitator for the Elisabeth Kubler-Ross Center for over a decade, staff for the "Safe Harbors" workshops, and co-leader of the "Growth and Transition" workshops, when we moved from Tucson to Seattle, I became an IACTM Certified Jungian Coach. I co-created and co-led four residential workshops for women over 65, entitled "Aging: An Unexpected Journey". Clearly, I have a passion for individual work within a group setting. For me, these workshops have been the shortest possible paths to developing deep listening skills, to practicing compassion for others, and to strengthening introspection.

Lawrence J. Lincoln, M.D

As a Board-Certified Palliative Care and Hospice physician, I have worked extensively in grief and loss for almost 40 years. Leading Elisabeth Kubler-Ross's "Life, Death and Transition" workshops around the world, as well as the "Growth and Transition" workshops in Tucson, I have used story, deep listening, and the externalization of feelings, to further my own growth as well as that of others. As described in "Reclaiming Banished Voices", the heart of my work, both for the dying and the living, has always been the creation of a safe environment for the unveiling of our "unfinished business", the expression of our inner truth, and the discovery of the hidden voices in each of us that have always wanted love and understanding.

Registration for “The Alchemy of Grief and Gratitude”

March 6-8, 2026

Larry and Anne Taylor Lincoln, along with their staff, are pleased to present a 2 ½ day weekend experience for a small group of individuals who wish to move from reactivity, stemming from loss or “trauma,” to presence and contentment. In the comfort and privacy of their home, from 9:00am until ~ 9:00pm, Friday March 6th through Sunday, March. 8th at noon, you will have the opportunity to explore past losses or “trauma” that may continue to block full enjoyment and participation in your current life. This will be an experiential as well as an educational workshop. Safety and Confidentiality are cornerstones of this process.
